John D. Gilbert Dead

John D. Gilbert of Seattle, Wash., a brother of William Gilbert and Mrs. James Parks, died in Salem, Wash., January 20, 1920, at the age of 75 years. He will be remembered as a former resident of Sutherland, later moving to Missouri and from there to Seattle, Wash., where his home has been for the last 20 years. He went to Salem for medical treatment in January, and died from an operation. While there the home of Rev. E. E. Gilbert was his headquarters, and Beulah Gilbert, a daughter of Caleb Gilbert of Yakima, Wash., a trained nurse, cared for him. Caleb was at his bedside when the end came, also his wife, two daughters and son were present.

Former Sutherland Resident Dies

The following clipping, relative to the death of an old settler of this community, is taken from the Brookings, S. D., Register. O. A. Sutton will be remembered by many residents of Sutherland.

Orville Adelbert Sutton was born at Gilbert's Mills, Oswego county, New York, April 8, 1842, and died at his home in Long Beach, Calif., December 19, 1920.

His parents, Himan and Olive (Scott) Sutton, reared a patriarchal family of twelve children, of whom Adelbert was the youngest son, and none were left to note his passing.

In the flush of his manhood, he marched away with the "boys in blue" to the defense of his country, enlisting August 31, 1862, at Phoenix, N. Y., in the 21st Independent Battery, New York Light Artillery, third division, 13th army corps, later in the 19th army corps. He served in battles at the siege of Port Hudson, Spanish Fort and others and was discharged September 8, 1865. Previous to his departure to the front he was united in marriage to Frances Adele Putnam, at Phoenix, N. Y., Oct. 5, 1862.

Upon his return from the army they resided in Michigan two years, then moving to Hardin county, Iowa, where he engaged in farming for five years. In 1872 he established a permanent home in O'Brien county, Iowa. Here he encountered the hardships of the pioneer, and here his family was reared, and for many years he enjoyed the fruits of his labor, until the limitations of age of himself and invalid wife, bade them retire from active life. To be near their children they came to Brookings, and after the passing of his wife he made his home with his daughter. Subsequently he married Mrs. Rebecca Shea, who survives him, and who lovingly and tenderly cared for him.

He is survived by four sons and two daughters, all of whom were present at the funeral except D. C. Sutton, who lives in Canada. Those present were L. W. Sutton, I. L. Sutton of Brookings, D. D. Sutton of Plankinton, Mrs. F. O. Shuck of White, and Mrs. I. E. Crosser of Brookings. He leaves seventeen grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Mr. Sutton was a lifelong Methodist, being a member of the M. E. church for 61 years. He was a member of the A. F. & A. M., also a member of the G. A. R., belonging to the Robert L. McCook post of Brookings.

Mrs. Sutton arrived in Brookings with the remains Saturday evening from Long Beach, Cal., and the funeral services were held Sunday at the Methodist church, Rev. Clifton Keagy officiating, assisted by Rev. J. A. G. Waits. Interment was made in Greenwood cemetery. Out of town relatives who were present at the last rites were Mr. and Mrs. F. O. Shuck and son Everett of White, Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Sutton of Plankinton.

• Obituary

• Mrs. Andrew Matott entered the 'Journey of Life' at Vinton, IA, Dec 28th 1857. And answered the summons to that Land of Peace and Rest at Humboldt, Iowa, July 28th, 1944. Her Journey of Life had continued for 86 years, and 7 months.

When she was quite young her parents, Thomas and Mary Jane Scott, moved to Peoria Ill., where they resided till she was 9 years old. At that time the family journeyed by covered wagon, to O'Brien Co, Iowa, and homesteaded land, and assisted in developing that portion of the state.

As a young woman, Mrs. Matott attended the Normal Training School at Cherokee and O'Brien Counties. On January 18th 1879 she was united in matrimony to Andrew Matott, at Erie, O'Brien County, Iowa. The home was blessed with the birth of seven children. Two of whom, Auri Edith, and Mrs. Edith Grace Skinner, preceded her in death.

For many years the family lived in O'Brien County...But moved to Dakota City, IA in 1892, where the family was reared. In 1906, with the younger children, they went to Seattle, WA, making frequent visits back to Humboldt County. It was on one of these visits in 1922 that Mr. Matott died.

In 1934 Mrs. Matott's health failed, and she came to Humboldt Co to make her home, and had been an invalid since that time.

During the long years of homemaking and the rearing of her family, Mrs. Matott was interested in, and pursued the finer and more cultural things of life. She was an accomplished musician, and a talented singer... And every worthwhile community enterprise received her support. She was for many years a loyal member of the Humboldt Methodist Church, to which she gave her time and talents and her untiring loyalty and devotion. She served her church as a teacher of the Senior Bible class, also as a leader in the Missionary Society and Women's Organizations.

Surviving her passing are five Children:

Mrs. Jesse M. Merris of Hardy, IA

Mrs. Genevieve M. Lattin of Dakota City, IA

Mrs. Ella Idis Eastman of Bradgate, IA

Thomas Francis Matott of Everett, WA

Mrs. Letha Brooks of Snohomish Co, WA

Poem: "The Watcher"

She always leaned to watch for us,

Anxious if we were late,

In winter by the window,

In summer by the gate,

And though we mocked her tenderly,

Who had such foolish care,

The long way home would seem more safe

Because she waited there

Her thoughts were all so full of us,

She never could forget!

And so I think that where she is,

She must be watching yet

Waiting till we come home to her,

Anxious if we are late ~~~

Watching from Heaven's window,

Leaning from Heaven's gate (....Margaret Widdemer)

Alexander was a farmer on the 1870 census. In 1880 he's a manufacturer of ice. This might be Thomas and Mary's Nevada. I think Mary Adele is living with the Beaths. If this is Nevada then Ella and Jessie have to be somewhere.

Line 26 Alexander and Line 27 Purleyett Beath 1880

I queried an ancestry tree owner and have gotten some information from her and then we started questioning some of the information we had and we both ended up searching for confirmation of what we had found. She didn't know anything about Purleyett but after I sent her the documents with Alexander and Purleyett on them she got interested. One thing led to another, she contacted some of the people who had helped her research years ago and now we have a letter. This from Jerri

Ok, here's the letter!

On the envelope my grandmother referred to the letter as "Aunt Purlyett's letter, 1888"...also that the "Ella" referred to is my Grandmother's Aunt Ella Gilbert.

Apparently it was sent to "Grandma Matott" (or Nevada Scott Matott)

The header is Chattanooga, Tenn. May 6, 1888

She starts off "Dear Friends" and talks about gardening and hard work (the whole first paragraph is on gardening)...then she writes:

ELLA and DELL (Ellen M. and Mary Adele) tell me not to work so hard, but the question is how can I get along without it. I have made out to get through the winter with the closest economy, I did not make any debts. I feel discouraged about the business being settled, it has to go through the Chancery(??) Court (or Chaucery...can't quite make out the word) and this Spring term has closed without touching our case...and Herbert (Matott, Nevada's husband) says it will have to lay over until the October term. I felt anxious to get settled so that I could know if I could keep the home...."ALEXANDER" willed the personal property to me. I had his note for the money that brother Seth (Seth Spencer) gave me and thought that I could get along very well, but when the Lawyer looked the papers over he said the note was good for nothing, so I can not get that from the estate.

I want to ask you if you will renew those notes that ALEXANDER held against you. I suppose it will be best, and you will probably be able to pay something on them in the course of a few years. Mr. Tenney of Cerro Gordo (? not sure of spelling) County was owing ALEXANDER and had been for a number of years...the note was well worn and needed renewing...and he did it very willingly when reminded of it.

I would have liked to visit your place this summer but do not feel able, they have set aside some money for my support in to the early Spring and as I had gotten through the Winter without it and sold some flowers, so I concluded to go to Wisconsin and see father once more. If I can get ready shall go about the first of June and stay only a short time.

ELLA (Ellen/Ella Scott Gilbert) is living in her house and seems very much pleased with the county and climate. Mr. GILBERT (John Gilbert is Ella's husband) is hard at work carpentering. GERTY is staying in the dressmaking department of a large store at present. I think you will have to move down here, where there are no blizzards and not much cold weather.

We are having strawberries, cherries...etc etc etc The weather is decidedly warm now.

Please write and let us hear from you. ELLA has been wondering why you did not write to her.

Kind wishes to all, Purlyett Beath, 901 East Ninth Street, Chattanooga, Tennessee

But the real kicker is, and this comes from another Thomas Scott descendent, Pearlyette was a sister to Mary Spencer, Thomas' first wife!!!! Yipeeeeeee!

How to order a copy of the will. I paid $6 for a digital copy emailed to me. It tells everything! Even a possible connection with the Murrays!! Oh happy day!

I had wondered if Alexander and Purleyett Beath had been married before but since Alexander lists no children, I guess this is their first marriage. And he does leave a substantial amount to his wife's niece and her boys and to his sister's boys. I notice he leaves his niece, Bessie out completely. Dell (Mary Adele Scott Hulse) lived with Alexander and Purleyett after her mother, Mary Jane died. Dell's mother and Purleyett were sisters.

"brother Seth" would be Mary and Purleyett's brother Seth Spencer. This is his only appearance in this book. I think!

Line 32-36 Christiana Murray family. Then Alexander Murray age 60 could be a brother to William.

Purleyett Spencer Beath and Mary Jane Spencer Scott were sisters. Purleyett married Alexander Beath. Mary married Thos. Scott. Mary Adele Scott was a daughter of Mary and Thos. who lived with Aunt Purleyett when her mother, Mary Jane, died. Mary Adel/Adel/Dell married H.C. Hulse. Dell's sons were Alexander B. Hulse and Bruce Hulse.

Alexander Beath had a sister, Christianna Beath who married William C. Murray. Her children were James, Bessie, and Willie. Have I finally found the clue I've needed since the second chapter of this book? And if so, there must be a connection with Wm. C. Connell from chapter 3. Where will it end!!

Book X page 100 has Alexander Scott as the buyer and in the body of the agreement the name changes to Alexander Beath.. Why?

Mary Adele's husband.

The Hampton Chronicle was established in 1878 and has been serving Franklin County since. The Chronicle is a weekly newspaper that was operated by the Purcell family for decades prior to its purchase in 1970 by Mid-America Publishing Corporation.

Dear friends

one of the great difficulties of these times to me is to find leisure time to write a letter, either business or friendly, my time is so completely occupied by hard work, I have done all of the digging myself to set out dozens of Rose bushes & other shrubbery, have not had one hours work from anyone had to spade all of the ground, my small patch of Potatoes will soon be ripe, I now have beautiful Roses in abundance I take all of the care of the green house & am boarding two young Ladies, very cheap in order to keep them with me.

Ella & Dell tell me not to work so hard, but the question is how can I get along without it. I have made out to get through the winter with the closest economy, I did not make any debts, I feel discouraged about the business being settled, it has to go through the Chancery Court & this spring term has closed without touching our case & Herbert says it will have to lay over to the October term. I felt anxious to get it settled so that I could know if I could keep the home, Alexander willed the personal property to me, I had his note for the money that brother Seth gave me & thought that I could get along very well, but when the Lawyer looked the papers over he said the note was good for nothing so I can not get that from the estate.

I want to ask you if you will renew those notes that Alexander held against you, I suppose it will be best, & you will probably be able to pay something on them in the course of a few years. Mr Tenney of Cerro Gordo County was owing Alexander & had been for a number of years, the note was well worn & needed renewing.

and he did it very willingly when reminded of it.

I would like to have visited your place this summer but do not feel able, they have set aside some money for my support & in the early spring & as I had got through the winter without it & sold some flowers, so I concluded to go to Wisconsin & see Father once more. If I can get ready shall go about the first of June & stay only a short time.

Elia is living in her house & seems very much pleased with the country & climate. Mr Gilbert ^{is} hard at work at carpentering, Gerty is staying in the dressmaking department of a large store at present. I think you will have to move down there, where there are no blizzards & not much cold weather.

We are having strawberries, May cherries are ripe. lettuce, radishes, Carrots, string beans, cucumbers, squashes, & green cabbage, beets &c are plenty in market. Blackberries are ripe in June.

The weather is decidedly warm now.

Please write & let us hear from you. Elia has been wondering why you did not write to her.

Kind wishes to all

Letter from Grandma Matthe
Aunt Purlyett - 1888.

Some Iowa history of the time.

1880's The difficulties of travel and the lay of the land around Latimer is reflected in a report about reaching a church near Millpond (Beed's Lake). "Roads that at certain times of the year were almost impassable had to be negotiated with horses and lumber wagon. Forced to cross creeks and marches, the horses at times mired down, single trees broke, and traces snapped in an attempt to get an empty wagon through low places."

Franklin county, on account of its geological formation rather than on account of its elevations, in its natural state, contained a very large percentage of wet land. Practically speaking, the eastern half of the county is surfaced with what is known as Iowa drift and the western half with Wisconsin drift and although the elevations of the western half of the county are higher than those of the eastern half, so far as appearances are concerned, the reverse seems to be true as the eastern half was naturally well drained while the western half remained in a very wet condition. With the exception of a small area which drains to the south and west towards the Iowa river, the drainage of this county is south and east through various creeks into the Cedar river. These creeks all have well defined channels through the Iowa drift, but as a rule have not reached into the Wisconsin drift. In other words, if you should drive north and south through the county on the section line running through the city of Hampton, you would cross a large number of beautiful creeks, some of them quite large. If you would parallel this road four miles west, you would find that these creeks had lost themselves and that the lands in that portion of the county originally were without outlets, except for extreme overflows, and that a large portion of the same consisted of sloughs, ponds and marshes. The earlier settlers in this portion of the county attempted individual drainage and many of them succeeded in draining various portions of their farms into other lower areas with considerable success, but no effective drainage was accomplished until outlets were provided under our present drainage law.

The first drainage district was established October 3, 1905, and completed about two years later. Since that time about thirty drainage districts have been established in this county, all but one of them being located in what is known as the western part of the county. The general plan has been to dig dredge ditches emptying into the headwaters of the present creeks and by this method the creeks, the natural drains of the county, have had their lengths extended largely to the west. These open ditches have formed the outlets for tileage systems and in many of the districts large tile have been used instead of the open ditches. At the present time we have open ditches aggregating approximately forty-three miles and tile drains approximately one hundred and five miles. There is included in drainage districts in the county approximately seventy thousand acres and the total costs of these improvements has been $433,512, to which may be added the engineer's estimate on two other improvements under headway of $38,000. It should be understood that the systems as put in by the county are simply outlet systems. Of course, these systems have tapped the wet areas and in themselves have relieved much of the lands of their surface water, but these lands have required a vast amount of additional tiling in order to receive the benefits afforded by the outlets. This tile has been put in by the individual owners and it would be a conservative estimate to say that the expenditures made by the individual owners have exceeded the cost paid out for the outlets. Again many land holders who were not in drainage districts have been stimulated by the increased price of land and the results they have seen from drainage in these drainage districts to drain portions of their land into natural outlets that already existed and I believe it is fair to say that the sum spent for tiling in this county since the establishment of the first drainage district eight years ago is easily $1,000,000 in addition to the original cost of the outlets provided under the drainage system. This would make a total expenditure of approximately $1,500,000 for drainage purposes in this county in the last eight years. These various drainage projects have resulted in much litigation and much dissatisfaction at the time of the establishment of the different improvements, but I know of no instance where a system has been completed and a land holder has availed himself of the outlet furnished that he is not satisfied with the result and would under no condition allow the improvement to be removed and his land placed in its former condition. The litigation has practically all resulted from the selfishness that seems to exist in most people. The law provides that each piece of land shall pay its proportionate share of the cost of the improvement according to the benefits derived. This assessment is made by disinterested parties. Yet it is almost impossible to find a man whose land has been assessed who does not feel that he has paid more than his proportionate share. This, I assume, results from unconscious selfishness, inherent in mankind, yet being as charitable as possible, I am constrained to believe that many have objected to their assessments, knowing that they were fair, hoping to shift the burden onto other shoulders, thereby receiving something in addition to what they themselves paid for. The practical man would ask the question, "Has this investment paid?" Those who are familiar with the conditions of this county previous to the installment of these drainage systems may readily satisfy themselves as to whether it has paid or not by driving through the western portion of the county. Farms that fifteen years ago were so wet as to be unprofitable to the owner or the tenants have become the most productive farms in the county and the general appearance is one of extreme prosperity and values of lands have doubled. This increased price of land, of course, is not wholly due to drainage as other conditions have intervened, but without the drainage little advancement in prices would have been had on these wet farms. In addition to the benefits derived by the individual land holders, the public has received a great benefit in the drainage that has been afforded the public highways. The highways in many instances crossed low marshy tracts of land that had no outlets and the county or the township was helpless to obtain drainage for the same until these drainage systems were established, but since that time many of these places, which were impassable during wet periods, have been drained into the outlets furnished and some of the best roads in the county may be found in these very places. The public has again received a large benefit from the fact that the valuation of these lands has been so increased that they are now bearing their proper proportion of the burden of taxation.

The drainage of Franklin county is not completed, but most of the larger systems are now in. From this time on the drainage will be practically individual drainage and small tile districts. However, in leaving the subject, I wish to predict that at some future time a joint district will be established by Franklin and Butler counties and the course of the West Fork will be straightened by cutting off its numerous bends and curves reducing its length by approximately one-half and relieving a vast area along its boundary of overflow, which makes the land at the present time unfit for cultivation purposes.
